Guide to Application for Enrolment in Certificate III or IV in TESOL

Please read this information carefully before completing the Application form.

Teach International's Certificates III and IV in Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) are nationally accredited programs that prepare you to teach English to speakers who do not have English as their first language.

If you are seeking a qualification that will assist you to gain employment in TESOL internationally, then Certificate III or IV will equip you to do just that.

If you are already a qualified teacher, the completion of Certificate IV will enable you to gain employment in English Language Colleges in Australia.

If you hold a degree and successfully teach English overseas for 12 months, the Certificate IV will then give you eligibility to teach in Australia.

Certificate III consists of 23 units that cover areas such as

- Lesson Preparation
- Classroom Management
- Communicative Language Teaching
- Use of Activities, Music and Technology
- Preparation for work in TESOL
- Teaching Grammar Implicitly

There are 28 hours of face to face training and assessment conducted between Wednesday and Sunday evenings, and 12 hours of readings from the Teach International Course Manual. As well as the in-class component, participants need to complete four more units on-line and 10 hours of Practice Teaching (Unit TICU17). Your trainer can help to arrange somewhere for you to undertake this teaching.

To complete Certificate IV, all the Certificate III units need to be achieved as well as an additional 10 units (110 hours) which can all be completed and assessed either here in Australia or overseas. This includes 4 hours of class observation and 6 further hours of Practice Teaching.

Entry Requirements

All applicants, whether native or non-native speakers of English, must have an awareness of language and a competency in English, both written and spoken, that enables them to undertake the course. Recognition of Prior Learning and Credit Transfer

It is sometimes possible for students to be granted credit towards units of competency offered by Teach International on the basis of their prior learning experience. Guidelines for Recognition of Prior Learning Applications are available on the Teach International Website at <http://www.teachinternational.com/downloads/RPLHandbook.pdf> Applications for RPL must be made in writing using the appropriate form. You will be informed in writing of the outcome of your application.

Teach International recognises AQF (Australian Qualifications Framework) qualifications and statements of attainment awarded by other RTOs (Registered Training Organisations). You will be able to receive academic credit for relevant learning outcomes, competency outcomes or standards in a qualification you have already achieved at other RTOs to the extent to which they are equivalent to the learning outcomes, competency outcomes or standards in a qualification you wish to undertake at Teach International.

You may apply for RPL or Academic Credit for any of Teach International's units of competency except the in-class components. This is because these components are unique to Teach International. We have streamlined this part of the course to best meet the needs of people of all backgrounds. The in-class components are packaged into a short, convenient course (Foundation Course), and we believe each component will be beneficial to you.

(The course outlines on our website indicate the units for which you may/may not apply for recognition of prior learning.)

Refund Policy

- The $200 application fee is completely non-refundable (and expires 12 months after initial registration).
- Once a student has made the relevant payment and been sent their Online Instructions via email or post, no refund will be given.
- Once a student has made the relevant payment on their instalment plan and been sent their Online Instructions via email or post, no refund will be given.
- Should Teach International Pty Ltd cancel any course, participants are entitled to a full refund or transfer of funds to a future course.
- No refund is available to participants who leave before finalising the in-class component of the course unless a medical certificate is produced. In that case, fees may be refunded on a pro-rata basis. However, should participants wish to finalise incomplete modules in a future course, the original fee payment can be used as credit towards that course.
- No refund of the Certificate IV upgrade fee is given to participants who begin the units in Certificate IV and then choose not to complete them.
- The $300 Certificate III upgrade fee for unit TICU17 is completely non-refundable.

Flexible Learning and Assessment Procedures

Certificates III and IV in TESOL are competency based courses. The courses are structured to allow ongoing opportunities for you to demonstrate your developing competence over the duration of the course. Each module has clearly articulated outcomes that you are made aware of from the outset. The Student Handbook <http://www.teachinternational.com/downloads/StudentHandbook.pdf> also provides information about the range of assessment criteria that will be used to judge your competence.

You will be notified in writing of the outcome of your assessment in each of the modules you undertake. An application for the reassessment of any assessment judgment may be made on the appropriate form available from your trainer or Teach International Head Office. You will be notified in writing of the reassessment in writing.

Your trainers and the Academic Director at Teach International are committed to the highest levels of quality and client service. We are always available to assist you with welfare and guidance services.

Complaints Procedure

1. If you are unhappy with any aspect of Teach International's products or services you should advise Teach International in writing of the nature of your complaint and the form of resolution you seek. The complaint must be put in writing before it can be addressed. (A Complaints or Grievance Form is available for download in the Student Handbook <http://www.teachinternational.com/downloads/StudentHandbook.pdf>)
2. Written complaints are addressed to the Office Manager, Head Office, Brisbane. The address is Teach International, Level 2, 370 George Street Brisbane QLD 4000.
3. The Office Manager refers the complaint to the relevant staff member of Teach International as follows:
 - A problem with an academic component of the course, or about the delivery of the in-class course, is referred to the Academic Director.
 - Complaints about the online courses are forwarded to the Resource Development Officer.
 - Any complaints about customer service or staff related matters are managed by the Office Manager.
4. All complaints are dealt with in a fair and equitable way and wherever possible, in a face-to-face situation. The staff member handling the complaint will arrange a time to discuss it with the complainant. A record of this meeting will be kept. The best interests of both Teach International and the client will be served if at all possible.
5. If the matter is not resolved through discussion, the complainant may lodge a written request to Teach International Pty Ltd to appeal the decision made in relation to it by Teach International staff.

An independent mediator, external to Teach International Pty Ltd, will investigate the appeal. In carrying out this investigation and reaching a resolution, the following steps will be included:

- Interview and/or take written statements from the complainant
- Interview and/or take written statements from all relevant people involved in the matter
- Interview and/or take written statements from the Teach International personnel who handled the grievance
- Review all relevant documents
- Consider the grievance in the context of the relevant Teach International Pty Ltd policies and procedures

The complainant and CEO will be advised in writing of the determination following the appeal process, including the reasons for it, and of any recommendations for action as a result of the determination.

This appeal process should take no more than 10 working days. This time line may be extended in light of matters such as the availability of relevant staff or students.

Attendance and Behaviour

Because of the intensive nature of the course it is necessary that participants attend every class and demonstration lesson. If, because of illness you are unable to attend a class, you must inform your trainer as soon as possible. If you are unable to attend any portion of the in-class components you may be required to complete these in a future course before your certificate can be issued.

Course participants are asked to behave and dress in the class as they would in the workplace, allowing maximum attention and participation of all class members. Ongoing failure to adhere to either of these two conditions may result in expulsion.

Privacy policy
